Administrator's Message....

As I write this message we have just received new genetic information. There are many reports available in this newsletter providing new proof information on bulls and cows. I would like to highlight a few of the accomplishments of our members. Congratulations to Glen Haven Farms of Crysler, Ontario with Glen Haven Lewis Lana who continues to hold the number 1 spot on the Top LPI Cow report. Eby Manor has two of the top 10 animals at position number 2 & 9. Guernsey View and Maplehurst have the remaining animals in the top 10 with 3 and 4 animals respectively. Eby Manor also has the highest new indexed cow with Eby Manor Lewis Summer. The top 5 Guernsey herds by LPI with a minimum of 20 active cows with official LPI are Eby Manor Farm Ltd., Cedar Ridge Farms Ltd., Maplehurst Farms, Broadview and Comfort Farms. Congratulations to these herds for this accomplishment.

The National Guernsey Show is fast approaching on Friday, September 21, 10:00 a.m. at Ancaster fair grounds. Please submit your entries as early as possible in order to have the catalogue completed. If unable to bring cattle to the show, consider attending as a spectator. The show is a great opportunity to view great cattle and visit with fellow members.

The board of directors of the Canadian association has voted in favour of providing leather halters to all first year 4-H members showing a Guernsey calf this year. A few halters have already been shipped however if you are aware of a first year 4-H member who should be receiving a halter please contact the office and we will be sure to have one forwarded to them. The board also agreed to support the 2012 Inter-County 4-H dairy judging competition in Embro this year. Canadian Guernsey sponsored the Junior Division, Coloured Breed Section, Runner-Up prize.

The amendments to the constitution that were approved at the last annual general meeting have received ministerial approval in record time. The constitution has been revised with these changes and is available on the CLRC website. As there are a number of pages, we have not mailed a new version. If you wish a copy, it can be accessed at <http://www.clrc.ca/16by-laws.pdf> or you can contact the office for a printed copy to be mailed.

We wish to thank Nina Linton for her efforts in writing a very informative and interesting article "Guernsey Gold" in the May issue of the Rural Delivery magazine. It was fun working with Nina to pull some Guernsey information together. Thank you to Nina and Rural Delivery for allowing us to use the article in our newsletter.

We are finally getting some welcomed rain in our area, hopefully not too little too late. It is amazing how Mother Nature can negatively or positively, depending on the year, affect the bottom line for so many of us. I wish for you a safe, prosperous fall and hope the weather is on your side to obtain enough quality feed for your Golden Girls!

GUERNSEY NEWS FROM SEMEX!!

by: Russell Gammon, Semex Sire Analyst

What an exciting spring and summer for the Guernsey breed!

On Friday evening, July 13th I walked into Fraberts, a store in my town of Fergus, Ontario. Fraberts specializes in making local food available. After I made some selections and was preparing for check out looked in the dairy display case. Leaping right out at me where the new Eby Manor Golden Guernsey milk bottles! I immediately added one to my pile of foodstuffs and headed for the check out. Once I got to my car I could not wait and opened the top of the bottle and took a good long swig of this fine Guernsey nectar! Boy, did it satisfy! Congrats to the Eby family for this bold and wise step ahead with accessing and offering the wondrous value there is in Guernsey milk! Grand Champion efforts!

Earlier in the year it was a true treat to spend a day in early May visiting Guernsey farms in Ontario with Rob Forster to judge the 2012 Ontario Guernsey Cup competition! I was much impressed by the caliber of cattle on all farms visited! And it was great to see the pattern that various sires are leaving! Super initiative!

On the Semex front we have two pieces of young sire news to share. We're excited that the well-bred Lindrian Python began his sampling services on June 1st. Given the story behind this young sire we are sure he is going to be popular in both Canada and the USA! Bravos to the Tamis family in BC for being so aggressive (in the best sense of the word!) in making good Guernseys!

In addition Semex was able to purchase the rights to work with the Dawson Syndicate to sample a September 2011 Guernsey bull named Dairyman Double Dawson. This bull is a son of our own bull Pine Ridge Double L. His VG87% dam Dairyman Challenge Dalite is by Idle Gold E Challenge-ET. This productive cow ranked 55th on the April 2011 US CPI list and is now projected to 4-4 305 11682 610 5.2% 443 3.8% after high yield and high component two and three year old records. As their name denotes Dawson and his dam are part of the famed Hoards Dairyman herd at Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin. Sweetening the story is Dawson's maternal grand dam the EX92% Rutter Bros Royal Oaks Dawn who has lactations to 6-6 305 10621 545 5.1% 373 3.5% in a long productive career. If all goes well Dawson will be a 2013 sampling sire!

We anticipate a stable August proof round.

Till next time, Guernsey on!

A Word from Your President. . .

For those of us farming in Southern Ontario, this will be a summer to be remembered as we've endured the hottest and driest summer in decades. Feed shortages and high feed costs are on every farmer's mind, and we are reminded of how vulnerable our industry is to circumstances that are beyond our control.

On a positive note, we at Eby Manor are now two months into marketing our Guernsey milk and the public response has been incredible. As I write this, we are into 40 independent retail outlets, including several cafés and restaurants. We are adding new customers weekly. Besides spending three days a week on the road delivering milk, we try to spend at least one day a week sampling milk at an outlet. We regularly hear comments like, "I haven't tasted milk this good since I was a kid" or "I thought milk all tasted the same". Many people become regular customers after one taste of the Guernsey milk. Café owners love the Guernsey milk because of the rich flavour and the milk's unique foaming capabilities. Numerous people tell us that they can drink the Guernsey milk without having stomach issues. This is most likely attributed to the high A-2 content of Guernsey milk.

We currently are processing only 2% but are working toward getting our sales volumes high enough by the mid to late fall of 2012 to be able to start a full fat cream top as well as skim milk. After many years of living in the shadow of more popular breeds, it is extremely gratifying to finally be able to showcase our breed's golden product to the public, to hear their comments and to watch as many choose the Guernsey milk even when it costs significantly more.

I was recently speaking with Kevin Stoltzfuz from Warwick Manor in Pennsylvania who markets all the milk from his Guernsey herd. I said to him, "selling Guernsey milk to the public gives a whole new meaning to the word, GUERNSEY". Kevin's response was "It certainly does".

We have a long way to go, but I dream of the day when the demand for Guernsey milk will be greater than the supply. This was the situation forty years ago, so it is not unrealistic to think that it could be a reality once again. Without our next two generations who are daily giving great care to our cows, it would have been much more difficult, if not impossible, to be where we are at in this venture today. We are very grateful for them and their involvement.

Ruth, I and our oldest two grandchildren had a most wonderful time on July 21st at the Ontario Guernsey Picnic hosted by the Comfort family at the Comfort farm near St. Anns. The weather was perfect, great food, good fellowship and fun games by Penny Bartlett.

As the show season rapidly approaches, we look forward to a strong National Show at the Ancaster Fair Grounds in Ancaster, ON. This will be a great opportunity to see Guernsey's in competition and be able to socialize with fellow breeders and friends. I wish all the best for all our Guernsey youth showing their 4-H calves in shows around the province.

The show season is another opportunity for us to showcase our Guernsey cattle and to educate the public about our wonderful breed. Go Gold, Guernsey Gold.

President

Fieldman Report – August 2012

If anyone asks you, “what is so special about Guernseys?” Tell them, “The proof is in the glass.” After 40 plus years Guernsey milk is being bottled and marketed in Ontario. Eby Manor has taken on this bold venture with Hewitt Dairy to produce a golden product that has been welcomed with open arms by retailers and the general public. The old saying, “try it, you just might like it”, has proven true for the 1L glass bottled homogenized milk. Currently, this product is being marketed locally through health food and other specialty shops. There have been people that could not drink cow’s milk can now enjoy a glass of Golden Guernsey excellence due to its A2 beta casein content. I wish the Eby family continued success with this golden opportunity. A2 Beta Casein content in our milk has not been overlooked by the dairy community either. Breeders of other colours have been looking for a way to take advantage of this unique characteristic of Guernsey milk. A breeder who, aiming to increase the A2 content of his Holstein herd, purchased a Guernsey bull was insistent that he was tested for A2. Our milk quality is a definite advantage we have over the other breeds.

Two new breeders and 2 existing breeders took advantage of a recent dispersal sale in NY State to add to their herds. A total of 7 animals will make new homes in Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Ontario. This is significant as the availability of animals within Canada has been limited. Another addition from the U.S. is a March 2012 Mission daughter from Knapps Ace Tamera who has several progeny that have excelled in the show ring and in the tank. She was purchased by Terry Beckett at the Spring for Colors Sale. Good luck to all with their new additions.

The First Ontario Breeders Cup took place on May 4. Our judge was Russell Gammon, Sire Analyst at Semex. This day allowed Russell to reacquaint himself with the Guernsey cow as well as breeders new and old. Russell was impressed with quality of animals he saw through the day especially with respect to strength and quality of udders. The winner was announced at the Wentworth Niagara Club summer picnic held on July 21 at Comfort Farms in St. Anns, ON. There were 17 entries from 5 breeders. The eventual overall winner was Maplehurst Aarons Reward (owned by Ken Forster) who was recently scored VG-86 as a 2 yr old. The runner up and winner of the 3+ lactation group was Don Haven Deemand Vespa EX-91 at 6-09 (owned by Scott and John Gordon). Many thanks to all of the breeders for allowing us to view the Golden Girls!

A new show season will soon be upon us. Our National Guernsey Show will take place on September 21st at 10 a.m. Once again this promises to be a spectacular show with many of the best Guernseys in attendance. This is another reason why Guernseys are special! This year’s judge will be Brian Carscadden from Semex.

Remember, Guernseys are always in demand!

GUERNSEY GOLD

This cow's rich milk history has earned it the title "Maritime dairy hero"

By Nina Linton

Move over, New Brunswick Holsteins. Across the province, Guernsey cattle – in the hands of generations of dairy farmers who have committed their livelihoods to the breed - are holding their own, proving the fawn-and-white dairy divas are worth their weight in golden-hued milk.

The numbers are impressive. Today, New Brunswick farmers boast the second-largest provincial Guernsey population - trailing only Ontario - with triple the total purebred registrations in 2011 of breeders in the eight other provinces combined. New Brunswick also boasts the nation's largest all-Guernsey herd, second-highest Lifetime Profit Index (LPI) herd, and two of the top 10 LPI Guernsey cows in Canada. LPI is a breed-based genetic value calculated for dairy animals, that reflects the relative lifetime profitability expected of their future offspring.

For this lingering pocket of star breeders, the Guernsey cow is more than a source of income - she is a way of life.

"It seems the families that have had Guernseys are very devoted to them," says Rosemary Peer, former Canadian Guernsey Association (CGA) general manager. "Guernsey breeders were and still are very committed to their breed and it is a good breed of cattle."

MARITIME ORIGINS

That the golden cow prevails in one of the first provinces to cherish her seems almost predestined.

Guernseys arrived by chance in the late 1800s; they were shipwrecked along the Nova Scotia shore. They quickly impressed Maritime cattlemen with their modest production of exceptionally rich milk and equally appealing temperament. The region instantly became the breed's stronghold, and for nearly two decades Guernseys were concentrated solely within it.

Local farmers championed the breed, and eventually lobbied the federal government to import more Alderney cattle. Those subsequent shipments helped establish Guernseys as one of five major Canadian dairy breeds. Throughout it all, New Brunswick was a hub of breed activity, its breeders at the forefront.

"Guernseys were an advantage," recalls retired dairy farmer Ted Wanamaker. Maintaining the family's golden herd alongside his brother, Bill, for more than 60 years, the duo garnered a premium for their Guernsey milk in the 1940s, '50s and '60s.

On the national breed level, Sussex's Walter McMonagle was the inaugural president of the CGA in 1905. That same year, seven out of the first 10 Guernsey cattle registered in Canada were either born on or owned by New Brunswick farms.

A provincial breed association followed, with activities concentrated in Moncton, McKees Mills, and Clairville. The New Brunswick Guernsey Cattle Club, still in existence today, hosted field days and organized shows that overflowed with entries. These social outings became the cornerstone of the breed's popularity in New Brunswick, creating a close-knit community of farmers bound by camaraderie and passion for the breed. A provincial Guernsey fraternity was born.

United by their mutual interest, members and officers worked tirelessly to promote and improve the breed, converting many established dairymen with the breed's positive traits. In the 1940s, New Brunswick's first artificial insemination (AI) unit, consisting of five Guernsey bulls purchased by the provincial club, opened in Norton, one of the many areas that brimmed with golden cattle.

THE BOOM

At their peak, Guernseys accounted for more than 70 percent of the dairy cow population in some counties. Their milk (coveted for its high butterfat, protein and beta-carotene content) was sold separately under the label

"In my memory, our herd has always been of Guernsey ancestry," says Frank Gordon. The Keswick Ridge, N.B., dairy farmer continues today with the breed his father pioneered in the 1960s. Today, Gordon maintains the second highest Lifetime Profit Index Guernsey herd in Canada.

"Guernsey Gold" by several local dairies. The 1942-1948 CGA herd-book lists more than 50 Guernsey breeders within the province.

"Guernseys were an advantage," recalls retired dairy farmer Ted Wanamaker. Maintaining the family's golden herd alongside his brother, Bill, for more than 60 years, the duo garnered a premium for their Guernsey milk in the 1940s, '50s and '60s.

The family also dabbled in showing their cattle, making it as far as the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair in Toronto. The Wanamakers, competing against some of the best Guernseys in the country, held their own in the ring. A few of their Cedar Rock Guernseys were sold to breeders in Ontario, and exported into the U.S.

THE BUST

Those were the good times, Wanamaker says, but the boom didn't last. The dairy industry's push for volume over components, the introduction of milk pooling, and the loss of a premium for Guernsey milk in the 1960s, triggered a downward trend for the breed across the country.

Gone were the farms with a handful of Guernsey cattle. Some sold their herds in favor of higher-volume producing breeds, other got out of the business all together. But the faithful stuck with the breed they loved, pumping up their litres with increased herd sizes to turn a profit during the lean years, and these farmers continue to milk them today.

MODERN SUCCESS

Frank Gordon, of Cedar Ridge Farms in Keswick Ridge, N.B., is one of those dairymen. "In my memory, our herd has always been of Guernsey ancestry," he says. Affectionately referring to his herd of lactating ladies as his "golden girls," Gordon says his love of the breed lured him back to his family's farm after graduating high school in the 1970s. "We liked the Guernseys for their higher component milk, quiet temperament, feed efficiency, and the ease of working with them. They have always given us good financial return on inputs and have paid the bills."

Taking over the family's Guernsey View prefix from his father, Gordon works alongside his wife Debbie, and their son Joel. The family saw room to grow with Guernseys, purchasing a larger property in 2007, and expanding their 22-milk-cow operation to a 100-head herd.

In 2009, the Gordons, who strive for high-component milk from quality-type cows, were awarded the CGA's Gartmore Farms Award for the most improved herd.

Working with Guernseys his entire life and growing up alongside familiar cow families, breeders like Gordon view their fostered livestock as part of the family. Off the top of his head, he can recite the lineage of many in his herd, their dams and sires going back two and three generations.

At the West household in Dundas, N.B., a hand-painted photo hangs on the wall inside their kitchen door. The tan-and-white cow with graceful horns and staggered rear legs posed on their front lawn is Justamere Beth, the family's first Guernsey cow, purchased from a nearby farm in 1947. The decision to switch to purebred Guernseys was made by Walter West after the local agricultural society touted the breed's finer features.

Since then, the breed has been a family tradition. "We have had purebred Guernsey since my grandfather (Walter) showed Guernseys. He was the first guy in go to Guernseys in our family, and we have just continued on," says Leith West, past president of the CGA.

The fifth-generation farmer works alongside his parents, Gary and Sue, and his brother Blake, on their 1,100-acre property. The family's Beaverwood Farm is the largest registered Guernsey herd in Canada, with more than 225 animals.

"We have benefits to our breed," says West. Since the milk pricing system shifted twenty years ago from paying by volume to multiple- component pricing that pays producers for the butterfat, protein and other solids within their milk, Guernseys have become increasingly competitive.

"Years ago people thought we were crazy because Guernseys don't give as much milk," says West. "Now, people aren't so quick to look down their noses at you. The emphasis on butterfat helps us. That is one of the reasons we have stayed with Guernseys. We got 96 cents a litre for our milk last month. And that's pretty good. They give less milk but it takes less milk to fill your quota, then you ship less milk, making transportation and all those marketing costs lower."

The Beaverwood herd averages 7,000 kg of milk at 4.8 percent butterfat.

"You work with what you have. She is what she is and she seems to work here," says West of the Guernsey cow. Tailoring their farming methods to meet the breed's needs has led to better management and increased milk production.

Continuing to work together for the betterment of the breed, New Brunswick Guernsey breeders keep close ties with each other through the provincial breed association, comparing notes and sharing information they have acquired over decades of experience.

West says the continued persistence, of the Guernsey breed in the province is as much in the hands of the people that handle them as the cattle themselves. "We have them. We like them. We keep them."

“Yogibear” Receives Official Domestic LPI in Guernsey Breed

Once again, the breed leaders experience little change as the bulls within the Top 10 LPI remain the same group as last round. Top 5 LPI bulls are now Lewis, Double L, Jordan, Bingo and Warden in that order. Edgewater Meadows Yogibear-ET (Tiller x Goliath) receives his first official LPI in Canada and ranks #18 on the list with negative ratings for the yield traits. Land Of Living RO Levi-ET remains tied as the #1 bull for Conformation at +12 but creeps up to #13 from #19 LPI with a gain of 213 points. For cows, the leading duo remains firm with Glen Haven Lewis Lana at #1 LPI and Eby Manor Lewis Secelia in #2 spot. Guernsey View Kit’s Ruby (#3 LPI) and Maplehurst Lewis Brea (#5) swap order and sandwich the highest new cow last round, Guernsey View Tina’s Winnie, in the middle at #4 LPI (up from #11 last round). The highest newly indexed cow this round is Eby Manor Lewis Summer at #29 LPI, who is a full sister of Secelia at #2 LPI.

Ontario Breeder's Cup Results

Congratulations to all our participants in the Ontario Breeder’s Cup. From the 17 entries from five breeders, the overall winner of the contest was Maplehurst Aarons Reward for Ken Forster. Reserve honours went to Don Haven Deemand Vespa for Scott & John Gordon.

Picture Contest

Please continue to forward your candid Guernsey pictures to the office. The winner of the picture contest will have their winning picture on the cover of the next Journal.
